Life Among Mormons A NARRATIVE OF

Many Years Personal Experience,

BY MARIA WARD,

THE WIFE OF A MORMON ELDER.

GITHAT one-half of the world cannot imagine how the other half live," is no less true than trite; and the lesson the adage affords, our experience and observation daily tends to verify. Then, too, when we consider the ever-varying phases of human passion, and the discordant elements from which all novel and fanatical sects are moulded, it can scarcely seem surprising that a faithful record of actual events should exceed in singularity the wildest dream of romance; or that crimes, both strange and unnatural, should be perpe trated in a far off country on the outskirts of civilization, which people in another state of society would never imagine possible. Know-ing as I do know, the evils and horrors and abominations of the Mormon system, the degradation it imposes on females, and the con-sequent vices which extend through all the ramifications of the society, a sense of duty to the world has induced me to prepare the fol-lowing narrative for the public eye.
